Mr. Everett and the Ledger.

The public press is making itself merry and jocundous over the announcement, lately put forth, that Edward Everett has engaged to write a year for Hanner's N. Y. Ledger, on condition that Hanner pays him the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars in aid of the Mount Vernon Association, for the purchase of the homestead and tomb of the illustrious Washington.

The reason of the merriment seems to lie in the fact that a man of such marked talent and reputation as Mr. Everett, should deliberately, for any consideration, engage himself as a stated contributor to a weekly journal of the flashy if not trashy style of the N. Y. Ledger—a journal whose character and contents would seem to be radically and totally foreign to the taste, habits and genius commonly ascribed to Mr. E. Well, it is not to be denied that there may be something odd, or even humorous, in the juxtaposition of Hanner and Everett; but we are, on the whole, rather pleased than displeased that the bargain has been made—for, in the first place, the offer by Hanner was a very liberal one, and a liberal offer is not to be despised; Mr. E. is only to furnish "one article per week"—no restriction whatever as to limit or subject; and, secondly, we have strong hope that the fine scholarly taste and philosophical mind of the new contributor to the Ledger will, in the course of the year, manage to suppress themselves most thoroughly and salutarily upon the readers of that periodical—so worthily and indelibly impress themselves, indeed, that Mr. E. may in this way impart as much pleasure to the public, and work fully as much rational improvement in the minds of his countrymen, as he has hitherto done by his personal eloquence.

A correspondent on board the Russian corvette Javasse, built in this city, and which went out to her destination under sail, says:—We labor under great disadvantages on account of having to drag our propeller after us. It is about the first experiment of a steamer making a long voyage dragging her propeller after her. When it commences to blow, we are obliged to shorten sail, as there is great danger of the stern post and propeller giving way; as it is, you can judge of the power which the water has over the propeller—when it blows fresh, and there is a heavy sea on, the shaft, which is disconnected from the engine and attached to the propeller, makes revolutions at the rate of one hundred turns per minute by the force of the water alone, such is the pressure of the latter. Once we have tried it, by connecting the shaft with the engine, which is of three hundred horse power; it set both engines in motion, and we were obliged to keep it unconnected, with that exception, ever since leaving New York. A. P. Paper.

A man named Courshaw, was, on the 15th, convicted, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, Philadelphia, of an assault and battery, with intent to kill; so reports the Evening Bulletin of that city. This case is somewhat extraordinary. A number of colored men got into a street brawl about a woman, and one of them fired a pistol at one of the party, a sailor. The slug from the pistol pierced the skull of the sailor, and buried itself deep in his brain. The wounded man was taken to the Hospital, where his wound was dressed without the ball being extracted; and the sufferer was left to die. But he did not die. In course of time he recovered, and he has now actually gone to sea, with a slug buried in his brain. "Time was, that when the brain was out the man would die," and it has hitherto been considered rather a hazardous experiment to drill a man's head with a pistol ball. The case we refer to, has proved an exception to the established rule.

The Spiritualists intend to establish in Chateaugay co., N. Y., an Association to be a "Divine Social State upon Earth," and accordingly a domain of two hundred acres has been secured, containing hailing springs discovered by the Spirits. A "Remedial Institute" is in process of erection, under the charge of a Mrs. Gardner, for invalids who seek spiritual treatment for their physical ills. The Spirits are now putting Mrs. Gardner through a course of tuition to fit her for her station. A Mr. John M. Spear is to hold the appointment of "communicator," and it is through him exclusively that the Spirits will make known their wishes. To be to be a "General Assembly," and this body is to be subdivided into various parts, named Benefactors, Electors, Beneficiaries, Agriculturalists, Healthfulists, Educationalists and Governmentists. Through the instrumentality of these, perfect bliss on earth is ultimately to be attained.

A horrible affair took place at Chicopee, Mass., on the evening of the 8th inst., three particulars of which have just transpired. A Frenchman, named Alexander Desmarreux, after perpetrating a brutal outrage upon the person of a little girl (Augustine Lucas, whose parents reside in New York city), murdered her, and then threw her body into the Connecticut river! The child was only 12 years of age.

A professional beggar boy, some ten years of age, ignorant of the art of reading, bought a card to put on his breast, and appeared in the public streets as a "poor widow," with eight small children.

A sudden rise in the Alabama River has forced steamboat captains to pay $85 per month for deck hands.

LOCAL NEWS.

NOVEMBER BLAST.—Yesterday was the sixth day that the wind has been from the westward, every day, except Thursday, blowing very heavy—sometimes almost a gale. No vessels have sailed from here westward, since last Saturday, and the fleet has been gradually accumulating. Yesterday we counted seventy sail in the harbor waiting wind—ships, Jacques, brigs, schooners and sloops, bound south and west. Should the wind continue here much longer, we shall need an enlargement of our harbor, as the vessels are already as thick as they can ride, in many places, and many of them anchored "double."

Our friend, Mr. P. W. Shipman, has commenced operations at his Bindery in Narragansett Buildings. We really hope all who have magazines, &c., which they ever intend to have bound, will send them to this gentleman at once, so as to give him a good start and encouragement in the commencement of his enterprise.

We are sorry to learn that our esteemed fellow citizen, Capt. William Newton, is lying seriously ill, at his residence corner of Thames and Marlborough Streets. We understand he was more comfortable yesterday afternoon.

The New Testament, Translated from the Original Greek, with Chronological Arrangement of the Sacred Books, and improved divisions of Chapters and Verses. By Leicester Ambrose Sawyer. Boston: John P. Jewett and Company. 1858.

We have received from the extensive publishing house of John P. Jewett & Co., a book bearing the above title. While we would say nothing damaging to the character of this work, we cannot regard it as calculated to supersede, in any measure, the other and established versions of the sacred Scriptures. As a book, it will be read with satisfaction by every admirer of the sacred writings, being, with some few quite important exceptions which we have not room to enumerate, attractive in style and arrangement as a book, and will doubtless be received by many for its novelty and variation in style from the standard version; but as a text book it is not destined to be useful.

The agent for the book is in town and will call on our citizens. Orders may be left for him at A. J. Ward's.

An apparatus for ventilating and fumigating ships has been brought into successful use—the inventor being Dr. Reid, of London. The machine, the principal feature of which is a large blower, by means of which air may be driven through tubes, with great violence, into any aperture, is taken to the ship on a steam-tug, which may also supply the motive power. The hatches of the vessel are then shut down tight, with the exception of one left open at each end. A tube, connecting with the ventilator, is placed in one of these open hatches, and the air is forced in, creating a strong current through the entire hold, and expelling the foul vapors at the other end. By closing the other hatch, medicated smoke supplied by a furnace attached to the machine, may be forced into every nook and crevice of the vessel and her cargo. By this process, the fumigation of a ship can be performed in three or four days.

THE LUNGS.—A recent writer says that the injurious effect of compression of the chest is shown by the fact that a man in a nude state is capable of inspiring 100 cubic inches of air in a breath, but when dressed, only 130 inches. Ladies who encase themselves in tight fitting under garments, should remember this fact. Though we draw in and expel from the lungs a similar quantity of air, it is not of the same quality. The air thrown out of the lungs has lost much of its oxygen, and has gained from three to six per cent. carbonic acid, a large amount of vapor, traces of ammonia, hydrogen and other volatile substances.

The fighting mania is spreading among the chivalry. The Louisville Courier says that on Monday last, a regular prize fight occurred in New Castle, Ky., between two schoolboys, aged seventeen and eighteen years. The amateurs in the "manly art" are named Gentry and Edwards. All the preliminaries were arranged after the order of the Heenan and Morrissey fight. Having reached the appointed place, accompanied by their seconds, they pitched into each other in the most approved pugilistic style. Three rounds were fought, and both appeared to be equally bruised, when they agreed to decide the contest with knives. But their seconds interposed, and the denouement was postponed to some future day.

The Louisville Journal gets off the following hard hit:—"In the last international regatta, we whipped Europe on the water; in the late chess contest in London and Paris, we whipped her on the land; and in the late balloon race between an American aeronaut and the French champion, we beat her in the air. We wonder what element she will choose for the next trial. She had better not name fire, for we have shown in two wars that we can stand fire better than she can."

Recreation (says Bishop Hall) is intended to sharpen the edge of it, which otherwise would grow dull and blunt. He therefore, that spends his whole time in recreation is ever whetting, never mowing—his grass may grow and his feed may starve; yet, centrally, he that always toils and never recreates, is ever mowing, never whetting—laboring much to little purpose.

The Cleveland Mail-dealer hears of preparations for prize fights all over the West, and mentions a "mill" soon to take place in that city.

Rev. P. N. Ewins pastor of the Presbyterian church, in Bloomington, Ill., has recently inherited a fortune of $100,000.

Providence, Nov. 18th, 1858.

Mr. Editor:—This city has not yet recovered from the commotion caused by the terrible conflagration with which we have been visited, in the destruction by fire, the second time within five years, of Howard's Block and the Museum building. It broke out at about 1-4 before 8 o'clock on the evening of Monday last, and was a magnificent free exhibition of fire-work—free to the public, though rather expensive to a few property owners in the immediate vicinity of the fire. The falling of the heavy slate roof, of the high massive walls of the burning building, and the immense body of flame and smoke was a sublime and terrible sight to look upon. Had the building in which the fire originated been constructed with fire-proof compartments, the progress of the fire could evidently have been checked, and the building, with the Museum, saved. The full particulars of the calamity have no doubt reached you before this in the Providence Journal.

Pawtucket was a scene, in a quiet way, of a "good time" last Saturday evening. N. G. B. Dexter, Esq., a much esteemed and highly respected citizen of that place, invited a party of between two and three hundred personal friends and citizens to pass the evening with him to celebrate his golden wedding—it being fifty years that day since his marriage. What was remarkable, the Minister, Rev. D. Benedict, D. D., who married him, was present, and also the printer, Josiah Jones, Esq., who published his marriage at the time it took place. Several clergymen who were present made congratulatory remarks, and Captain Dexter, with his "boys," was in his happiest mood.

A case of Plug Uglyism came off in that place a few days since, by which D. Wilkinson, Esq., one of the inspectors in the State Prison, in attempting to separate the belligerent parties, received a "thump" which caused him the loss of a number of teeth, besides sundry marks in proof of the weight of the "brusers' fist." The individual who struck Mr. W. was engaged in certain performances of roudism, and went so far as to subject himself to a residence in the State Prison for a time.

It is stated that the annual report of the Quartermaster-General, which is now ready for the press, shows the expenditures of that branch of the War Department to have been $9,736,385. The largest amount of this—over four millions—has been appropriated for the Utah campaign, and the next largest for the Pacific department.

In London, a few weeks since, an insolvent debtor attempted to defraud his creditors with a manufactured account book in place of his original ledger. The fraud was discovered in consequence of the date of the manufacture being upon the paper of which the new account book was composed.

The Pittsburg Press says it understands that the New York Ledger man, deeming the salary of President Buchanan entirely disproportionate to his services, has made the "pencil proposition" to double it for the remainder of his term, provided he will furnish his executive messages to the Ledger exclusively.

Mrs. Agnes Ida Helbing, of Nashville, Tenn., and her husband, have brought suit against Philip H. Kohlen, for breach of promise of marriage, made years before. Although she has since married another man, she estimates the damage to her young affections at $20,000.

A little girl, 13 years of age, in Bucks county, Pa., in revenge for some fancied ill treatment, on Monday last, set fire to a barn, destroying a large amount of grain and several cows—a loss of over $5,000.

A few days since, Joshua King, quack doctor, local preacher, &c., living in Nicholas county, Va., eloped with two young ladies, leaving a large family in destitute circumstances.

The Senator who won the $150,000 at the Faro Bank of the "distinguished sportsman" recently deceased at Washington, is said to have been the Hon. James A. Pearce, of Maryland.

Mr. Samuel Lawrence, the noted ex-agent of the Hay State Mills, returned from Europe in the steamer Indian Queen last month, and has taken up his residence in Baltimore.

The Charleston Courier sarcastically says, the report that Amherst College has tendered the degree of L. L. D., to Morrissey, is without foundation.

It is said that a duel is on the tapis, between a member of the city government of Charleston, Mass., and another prominent citizen of the place.

Miss Julia Parker of New Britain, Conn., feeling very melancholy, on Thursday last, drowned herself in water only fifteen inches deep.

The citizens of Harrodsburg, Ky., are endeavoring to raise money to purchase the military Asylum from the Government, and reconvert it into a watering place.

The wife of Mr. John Crosby, of Woodford county, Ky., eloped last week with a young man of 23, taking with her four children, the youngest only three weeks old.

The prize money to be paid to the military serving in India, (says the Glasgow Herald) is enormous. Lord Clyde's share is said to exceed £50,000.

Among the orders allowed at a late term of the Circuit Court, of Evansville, Indiana, was one of $2.75 for washing and performing one winter's day.

A man in Philadelphia was nearly choked to death, on Monday, in a dining saloon, by getting a toothpick, which was in his lunch, into his throat.

Saline County, Illinois, at the recent election, polled 1,005 votes for the Democratic ticket, and none for any other ticket.

HAZARD & CASWELL'S PURE & GENUINE LIGHT STRAW-COLORED MEDICINAL COD LIVER OIL, PREPARED FROM SELECTED LIVERS ONLY.

The great remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Infantile Wasting, General Debility, and all diseases arising from deficient nutrition. Professor Parker, in the "American Medical Monthly," says:—

"We have had patients use it, who had tried almost every manufacturer's oil, and give this the decided preference. It is easily digested, and does what is expected of it. It is of a light straw-color, has none of the rancid fish odor, but is sweet and pleasant."

Professors Palmer and Gunn, in the "Pensinsular Medical Monthly," say:—
"We pronounce it to be a free from odor, color and taste, as Cod Liver Oil seemingly can be."

From Professor A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts:—
GENTLEMEN:—I have subjected to chemical analysis the Cod Liver Oil prepared and put up for sale by Messrs. Hazard & Caswell, of Newport, R. I. It proves to contain, unaltered, the iodine compounds, essential to efficiency of action; and in comparison with the finest specimens I have seen of foreign origin, it takes the highest place.

The importance of having a reliable source from which this valuable remedy, in a state of purity, can be obtained, leads me to recommend, with confidence, this excellent article. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to State of Massachusetts.

The testimony of every Resident Physician corresponds with the opinion of Professor Hayes, viz.:—
James V. Turner, M. D., Theo. C. Dunn, M. D., David King, M. D., H. E. Turner, M. D., Daniel Watson, M. D., W. Argyle Watson, M. D., Samuel W. Butler, M. D.,
HUBBELL, Chemist, of Philadelphia, says:—
"It is unequalled by that of any other manufacturer, for freshness, freedom from taste and odor. It is more efficient than any similar article yet offered."

Our Oil, if not too long kept by the dealer, is perfectly sweet and palatable, not requiring to be manufactured into emulsions or Jellies, to conceal a nauseous taste, as inferior Oils do.

The testimony of hundreds, to the same effect, can be presented, but any one acquainted with the sensible properties of the Oil will at once perceive its great superiority over any heretofore offered to the public. We certain to observe, on the label of each bottle, the signature of Hazard & Caswell, and also upon the metallic capsule covering the cork.

Address, HAZARD & CASWELL, Chemists and Druggists, Newport R. I. For sale everywhere.

Destructive Fire at Provincetown.

PROVINCETOWN, Nov. 19. A fire broke out in the lower part of Wm. Boyne's clothing store at 12 o'clock last night. The flames rapidly extended and nothing but one small showcase was saved from the store. Mr. Boyne and two young men were sleeping in the second story of the building, and escaped by letting themselves down from the window. The flames extended to the large fish store of Jesse Cook, which was wholly destroyed. The upper part of this building was occupied as a sail loft, and many sails, in addition to a large stock of duck, &c., was consumed. The lower part was used as a storehouse for codfish, about 550 quintals of which were in store.

The fire next reached an old store occupied by O. P. Bowley, and as a junk shop, the oil of which was consumed. The jewelry store of A. L. Dudley was the next that took fire, and together with a part of his valuable stock, was consumed. Between this building and the large clothing store of J. F. Small, there was an old building which was hauled down by the firemen before the flames reached it, and through this means and the great exertions of the firemen, the further spread of the flames was arrested. The Union House was several times on fire, as were several other buildings in the vicinity.
